

PIRANESI

It seems that not only diamonds, but also rubies are a girl's best friend. Made for royalty, this unbelievable ensemble of diamond and ruby choker, drop earrings, ring and bracelets is as seductive as it is sophisticated. Expertly crafted settings and discriminating design are every woman's fantasy for a wardrobe of fine jewelry. This set makes it a reality as well.

CRAIG DRAKE

Lovely, artistic and whimsical, the Estro Collection from Craig Drake offers objects of desire, direct from nature. This fun-spirited line includes a menagerie of insects, amphibians, and sealife which are bejeweled in an array of diamonds, colorful sapphires and rare stones.

Another way to be distinctively different this season is with the most lustrous, magnificent, multicolored Tahitian pearl necklace known to man or animal.

JUDITH RIPKA

Golden tones are the epitome of style at the moment. Judith Ripka's lace cuff bracelet is an exquisite, diamond accented chain design embraced by brushed, 18K yellow gold.

Yellow sapphires in both the bracelet and earrings follow the theme while highlighting Ripka's signature matte finish and mesh designs.

A necklace of golden South Sea pearls fastened with two yellow gold and diamond rondelles complement this majestic set.

BARRY KRONEN

To the point and on the mark, these black and white diamonds are part of the new eclipse collection. This suite is art deco and millennium, or modern and retro simultaneously. With its classic, clear cut lines this distinctive set features pavé black and white diamonds made to wow everyone from the wearer to the wooer.

The entire Kronen Collection is chic and fashion-forward. Its simplicity and seduction render the avant-garde woman ready for any occasion.

AARON BASHA

Aaron Basha's exciting new Nem-Nem Collection in 18K white gold, designed to rejuvenate the soul, these crystals, tourmalines and diamonds combine to heal and energize anyone who wears them.

DE VROOMEN

A cascade of sapphire beads culminates in a beautifully crafted gold centerpiece, accented with green enamel bands and set with an eye catching crystalline ruby, understated ruby and enamel ear clips, a bold 18K gold repoussé bracelet set with ruby and a stunning sapphire ring are the ideal complements for this sophisticated and elegant suite.

De Vroomen, one of the few designers in the world who has mastered the ancient art of repoussé, has excelled himself once again with this unique collection.

PICCHIOTTI

Reminiscent of listening to a piece of music that evokes memories, emotions and energies, this diamond necklace gives the woman who wears it an overture of opulence. Ten months in the making, the necklace is set with 1,020 diamonds totaling 73.76 carats. Luxurious diamond clustered ring and ear clips are the perfect accompaniment.